Dear Guests,

starting in the early 1920s, original American Diners were a place where you could get a rich selection of classic home cooking from early morning to late at night. Cooked daily with fresh produce, mostly using recipes from Grandma's cookbook.

We at Kullman's are also committed to this cooking tradition. The careful selection of our ingredients and the artisan production of our dishes is really important to us and the basis of our much loved food.

Have good conversations, enjoy our delicious meals and feel at home with us!
